Course description:

This course will explore the importance of data collection in driving therapeutic practice through the process of Data Driven Decision Making. The participant will understand the need for S.M.A.R.T. (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Relevant, Timely) goal writing as a foundation for strong data collection. This course will provide practical applications on how to use data collection tools to form a visual representation of the data, analyze the data to monitor progress toward goal attainment. While this course is primarily designed to address the challenges of data collection in the educational setting, all clinicians could benefit from the systematic approach of Data Driven Decision Making to improve outcomes.

Learning objectives:

- The learner will identify the importance of data in justification of therapy services
- The participant will apply S.M.A.R.T. goal writing, including IEP requirements
- The participant will demonstrate Data Driven Decision Making into daily practice
- The learner will be able to apply the conversion of data into a visual representation to illustrate the outcome of the treatment in a meaningful way
